VOL. 53 — NO. 45

Harnett Kane To Review "Deep Delta Country" November 20, Here

Calling all coast towns! Calling all coast towns! The Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library Board is calling all coast towns to hear Harnett Kane review his new book "Deep Delta Country."

Harnett T. Kane, Louisiana's most popular author of today will come to Bay St. Louis on November 20 to meet the people of Bay St. Louis in connection with the publication of his newest book, which has just been issued to the accompaniment of national acclaim. Mr. Kane's latest volume is "Deep Delta Country" described as a "glamorous panorama of a beautiful and fascinating land" the Mississippi river borders and the people who live along them. It includes considerable material dealing with the Mississippi Sound and the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Mr. Kane will talk under the auspices of the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library Board but the hour of the review has not been set.

He will autograph all copies of books purchased on the day of the review as it will be hard to have him autograph copies otherwise.

Attention all coast towns. This is the opportunity you have been waiting to hear an author do his own book. His review of the "Bayous of Louisiana" was a treat and is still being alighted. The "Deep Delta Country" treats of a section different from "The Bayous of Louisiana." It handles it in the same warm, affectionate fashion, giving a stream of friendly stories and chuckle-some comments such as made Mr. Kane's book on the bayous so widely known in America. Don't fail to hear him.

Second Drive For Salvage Waste Paper

The second drive for salvage waste paper opened last Saturday with fair results. Paper collected will be called for and the old Betz building, corner Hancock street and Railroad avenue, will be open from 8:30 to 5 each Saturday for the storage of the paper. Don't burn your old discarded paper. Save it and help in this drive for waste paper. Remember the drive closes on November 30 so go right to work and get the car load by that date.

Several were attracted to their front doors last Sunday by the sound of singing and laughter and what was it but the teenagers riding high on truck loads of paper happy as a teenage should be. It is believed that the results were good and that they collected two large truck loads. Keep it up girls and boys! Don't let the Red Cross miss the chance of $300. It is to your advantage to see this drive through to the end so keep up your good work.

District Conservationist Visits County Regarding Soil Conservation

District Conservationist S. J. Deveau, visits county regarding the organization of a soil conservation district in Hancock County.

If such a district can be set up in this county the development of a complete conservation plan, with individual farm maps showing the capabilities of the soil and the profuse land use program. Along with a definite work schedule for setting up conservation practices year by year, will be carried out by trained technicians without any cost to the farmer. County Agent C. C. Stone after talking with several farmers throughout the county requested Mr. Deveau to give information regarding the securing of a district. Mr. Deveau being a native of Pearl River County and having taught school in the Sellers' community several years was naturally interested in the welfare of the people of Hancock county and showed his interest by making a trip here to assist in the plans for setting up such a program. The county agent with the assistance of other agricultural leaders of the county are going ahead with plans for setting up a county district.

Conrad Sick, 78, Died November 2 at Home

Conrad Sick, 78 year-old citizen of this city, died at his home, 640 North Beach on Thursday, November 2, at 10:30 p. m. following an illness of several months but which only became acute last week.

His funeral was held from his late residence on Saturday afternoon with Rev. E. E. Samples conducting the religious service. The body was taken to New Orleans by barge for interment in Cypress Grove cemetery, the Rev. C. R. Tomb, pastor of the Claiborne Avenue church, New Orleans, officiating at the cemetery. Those acting as pall bearers were his five sons, William, George, John, Peter and Conrad Sick and his brother-in-law Joseph Bager.

Mr. Sick was a native of New Orleans and was the son of the late Agatha Gandel and George Sick of New Orleans. His wife the former Miss Mary Louise Bager, of New Orleans preceded him to the grave less than a year ago. He came to Bay St. Louis about 45 years ago and was engaged in the lumber business until his failing health made it necessary for him to retire from strenuous activities.

He lead a quiet life and his home was his world. He had a simple faith which he maintained to the last and went forth to meet his God with all of his children around him. Bay St. Louis has lost a good citizen.

Surviving him are his two daughters Misses Hilda and Barbara Sick, five sons, William, George, John, Peter and Conrad Sick and eight grandchildren.

The Echo joins the many friends of the family in offering sympathy at this time of their loss.

Resigns As Superintendent of Kings Daughters Hospital

Mrs. C. E. Craft has tendered her resignation as superintendent of the Kings Daughters Hospital effective November 15.

Mrs. Craft has been with the hospital in that capacity for fourteen years and six months but the strenuous responsibilities of hospital work has made it necessary for her to retire from any active work for some time. She will join Mrs. Craft at Pascoagoula where he is with the U. S. Government, and they will keep house there.

Mrs. Craft says she hopes for the incoming superintendent the same good will and cooperation from the medical staff and the Hospital Board as has been given her through her tenure of office.

Mrs. Craft has made many friends during her residence here who are eager to see her make her home elsewhere but they realize that she is greatly in need of rest.

Supplemental And Occupational Gasoline

The Local War Price and Rationing Board announces that there has been quite some confusion in the minds of applicants for supplemental and occupational gasoline when they are advised that their Mileage Rationing Record of your car was mailed to you at the time you received your Basic A Ration Book and which takes the place of our previous Tire Inspection Record, and in making application for supplemental or occupational mileage be sure to attach your Mileage Rationing Record (Form R-534 Stub); otherwise, your application will be held up until you do furnish the same."

A Correction

In reporting the death of Mrs. Eulalie Gardeblad Fayard in last week's issue of the Echo, in the list of names of her survivors, we inadvertently omitted the name of her sister, Mrs. Florence Melanie Smelker, a former resident of Bay St. Louis and now residing in Mobile.

Returns To Active Duty With U. S. Navy

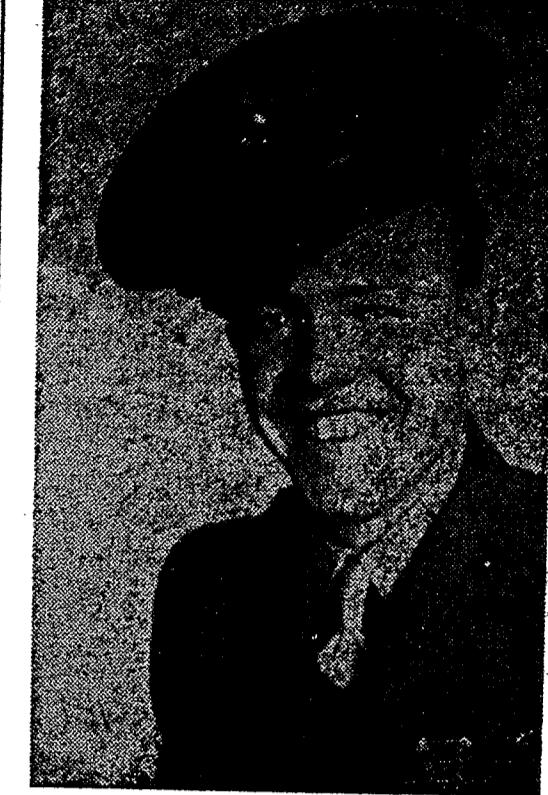

Eugene Greenwald, of Waveland, chief boatswain's mate (retired) is one of the enlisted men now on duty at the headquarters of the Eighth Naval District here.

First enlisting in the Navy in 1940, Greenwald has served all over the world with the Navy aboard many types of ships, including destroyers, battleships, and cruisers. He has also done duty with the Navy Recruiting Service. Upon our entry into war he returned to active duty.

Spending Leave at Home

Pfc. Eddie Ruffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ruffin, of Logtown, Miss. is home on a 21 day leave, after serving 17 months overseas. Eddie says he has been in Sicily, Africa, Italy, and France but says there's no place like the "good ole U. S. A." He is married to the former Alice Dawson.

WAR RATION BOARD COLUMN

Rationing Calendar For Week Of November 6

PROCESSED FOODS: Blue A-8 thru W-5 (Book 4) now valid at 10 Points each. Good indefinitely.

MEATS AND FATS: Red A-8 thru P-5 (Book 4) now valid at 10 points each for use with tokens. All good indefinitely.

SUGAR: Sugar stamps Nos. 30, 31, 32 and 33 now good for five lbs. each indefinitely.

CANNING SUGAR: Stamp No. 40 good for five pounds canning sugar until February 28, 1945.

SHOES: Airplane stamps No. 1, 2 and 3, valid indefinitely.

GASOLINE: A-13 coupons now valid in Mississippi through December 21, 1944.

Rationing rules now require that every car owner write his license number and state on all gasoline coupons in his possession as soon as they are issued him by the rationing board.

Faced with a continuing flood of applications for Grade 1 passenger car tires, Maj. W. E. Holcomb, district OPA director, said today November quotas, raised slightly over October quotas, are still insufficient to take care of an appreciable number, if any, of the "back-log" of applications on hand at most local War Price and Rationing Boards.

OPA said November quotas of commercial tires also too small to allow for any relation rigid rationing requirements or strict observance of tire conservation rules by consumers. "The new quotas reemphasize the need for greater use of re-capping as a means of keeping present tires in operation," he said.

November tire quotas for the Mississippi district are: Grade 1 passenger—17,768. Small trucks 4,236.

Shoes containing small quantities of leather to reinforce fabric uppers, manufactured or imported before November 6, have been made ration free by the Office of Price Administration.

The action, affecting mostly men's and boy's type shoes such as rubber-soled gymnasium shoes, was taken to enable shoe dealers to move current stocks, OPA said.

Maximum prices on cucumbers, suspended because of heavy crop damage in the recent hurricane, will be restored at previously established ceilings on January 1, 1945, the Office of Price Administration said today.

The previously established prices are $2.90 per 28 pound lug and $5 per 48 pound bushel, f. o. b. shipping points in Florida and California, for the period from January 1 to April 30. These prices at grower level will mean retail prices of about 16 cents per pound in the Southeast. OPA said ceiling prices on cucumbers are expected to be about six cents a pound higher as the result of action by the Office of Price Administration of increasing maximum prices by $1.55 per bushel from November 1 through November 30.

OPA said the action affecting all snap beans produced in the Southeast was mandatory under the "disaster" clause of the Stabilization Extension Act to compensate growers for crop losses from the recent hurricane.

Action by the Office of Price Administration of raising the maximum price of fresh cranberries by 25 cents per box to growers was expected to result in an increase of about one cent per pound at retail.

OPA said the maximum price was raised in compliance with the Stabilization Extension act after information indicated crop losses have cut production in the nation to 44 per cent of the ten-year average.

Acting to boost hog production, the Office of Price Administration has extended ceiling prices of $14.75 a hundredweight, Chicago basis, to hogs weighing up to 270 pounds.

"WING AND A PRAYER" AT A. & G. THEATRE SUNDAY AND MONDAY

20th Century-Fox Epic Of Carrier in Action Stars Don Ameche, Dana Andrews and William Eythe

Out of the welter of motion pictures devoted to telling the stories of our various fighting services, it remained for 20th Century-Fox to bring us what is by far one of the most thrilling exciting and heart-warming human epics of them all, in the screen's first great drama of our aircraft carrier force in action. The film, "Wing And A Prayer—The Story of Carrier X" will be at the A. & G. Theatre Sunday and Monday.

Starring Don Ameche, Dana Andrews and William Eythe, the picture is a stirring salute to the gallant Navy men of the sky whose home is a flat-top. The screen is flooded with the rousing humor, adventure and drama of life aboard an aircraft carrier. But more than that, it reveals the amazing story behind the strategy that paved the way for spectacular victory over the Japs at Midway.

In the first hot flush of indignation against the treacherous Japan sneak-attack on Pearl Harbor, and with the country asking, "Why don't we fight back?" and "Where is our Navy?" an unidentified aircraft carrier is sent into the Pacific for a rendezvous with its planes. But when the planes land aboard the flat-top, the rarin'-to-fight flyers are told that their orders are to avoid combat with the enemy—to run away and not fight back—and the carrier with its bewildered and frustrated crew, sets out on an apparently aimless course through Jap-infested waters. It is against this setting of suspense and drama that the saga is unfolded reaching a smashing climax that scores a new high in film excitement.

In casting this picture, producers William A. Bacher and Walter Morosco have drawn heavily on 20th Century-Fox's top line of male stars—Don Ameche as Commander Harpo who is all Navy; Dana Andrews as the easy-going squadron commander; William Eythe as the ex-movie star, and Charles Bickford as the carrier's skipper. All turn in rich and compelling performances that stand among their best. In the supporting cast Sir Cedric Hardwick, Kevin O'Shea, Richard Jaekel and Henry Morgan, call for special mention.

Carl Ray Garriga has joined the Maritime service. He will soon leave for St. Petersburg, Florida, where he will attend school and training

ORITE THEATRE SUNDAY AND MONDAY "GYPSY WILDCAT"

In Technicolor with Maria Montez, Jon Hall And Leo Carrillo

A picture that promises to be alive with color, romance and adventure is due to arrive next Sunday and Monday at Orite Theatre. It is Universal's "Gypsy Wildcat" produced by George Wagner, filmed in Technicolor, and starring Maria Montez in the title role, Jon Hall and Peter Coe.

According to reports, "Gypsy Wildcat" represents for the tempestuous Maria Montez a departure from the role of character actress interpreted in such films as "White Savage," "Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves" and "Cobra Woman." The role is one of the most seductive she has ever portrayed, in spite of the fact that the fiery Latin star wears more clothes in "Gypsy Wildcat" than she has worn in all her previous pictures put together.

Jon Hall will be seen as the dashing soldier of fortune who wins her.

OUR TOWN

AND AGRICULTURE

Our town has a big stake in agriculture. Forty-eight percent of the total population in Southeast Mississippi live on farms at the last census and the annual value of farm products sold, traded, or used by farm households exceeded $21,000,000.

Whether our town is a big town or a small town, the welfare of our sons and daughters returning from the armed forces and the whole future of our town itself will be intimately affected by farming trends in the area surrounding it. In the degree to which farm activities can be conducted on the basis of productive results which provide a happy, creative, and compensatory livelihood to those engaged in farming, lies a large part of the post war answer.

Certain characteristics of agriculture in Southeast Mississippi point the way to more detailed study. In the last census giving data for 1939-1940, and being characteristic of the prewar period, 27% of the farms in Southeast Mississippi reported gross value of farm products sold, traded, or used by farm households as being less than $250 annually and 75% reported gross value of farm products of less than $1,000 annually. The ratio of farms with these low values of production is from 15 to 35% higher than for the United States as a whole.

At the same time only 3.6% of the farms in Southeast Mississippi reported livestock or some form of livestock products as their major source of agricultural income while 26.0% of the farms of the country as a whole fell in this class. Less than 9% of the section's farms reported sale of forest products.

Wheat, corn, flour, white potatoes, fresh meats, and cured and smoked meats, are just a few of the common commodities originating on farms which the state imports in large volume.

While every indication points toward a more widespread development of manufacturing as the underlying secret of a basically improved agricultural economy, and the Mississippi Power Company has cooperatively and successfully participated in a program of industrial activity for many years, much can be done apart from this.

A more diversified crop program; a sound development of livestock activities with attendant feed and pasture facilities; enlargement of storage, preservation and processing facilities; enlargement of wholesale or brokerage activities on a business basis dealing with local and interstate marketing of quality home produced products of competitive grade and price; and greatly increased emphasis on farm forestry, are basic. All of these together with increasing study and application of conservation, utilization, and fertilization of the soil constitute realistic lines of approach to the end that Mississippi farms may supply a higher percentage of Mississippi's needs and in turn a higher volume of livelihood opportunity.

Those promoting constructive thinking and action along these lines need encouragement and cooperation of the highest order if our town is to present the opportunities deserved by our sons and daughters when they come back to it.

Once again the Bus Line is operating which means so much to everyone in general. Transportation for many had become a problem—not so now, with a route and schedule meeting the needs so conveniently arranged to suit all purposes for local travel.

The paper drive is on again. Mrs. A. F. Fournier interviewed Miss Mary Perkins, principal of Waveland school on the subject so vital today. Immediately it was taken over with all effort to keep the drive going. So if you have paper tied according to the rules, notify a Waveland school child.

Rules for packing the paper is that all newspapers, magazines and cartons are to be separated in this way.

Newspapers and magazines are to be bundled and tied in packages small enough to be handled by these children. Carton boxes can be folded and placed inside a larger carton box. This drive is urgent, so please respond to the rules and thus help these children to collect same when they call.

For four years the school children of Waveland have taken an interest in the drive for crippled children which is always started around Thanksgiving time. These funds are collected and dropped in a glass jar until enough is realized and sent to Jackson by Miss Perkins. If anyone cares to help these unfortunate crippled children the principal will be glad to send for the donation. The contributions have grown each year and already the goal has surpassed the former years.
